Officer Reports

Chair:

Greetings Area,

Happy New Year to you all. So much for slowing down in December, been crazy busy. I attended the Yakima Divisional P.R. Meeting, Wednesday, December 14th. The past few months' attendance had been light; however they had a great December turn out, with good participation. Keep up the good work. I look forward to events of the New Year. Working toward the unity of our program.

In loving service,
Ron O.

Vice Chair:

Greetings Area Family,

It is wonderful to see you all again. It's incredible to see that we're starting a new-year and while I'm wondering how this past year went by so fast, I am looking forward to the year ahead. I'm hopeful it will be full of peace, love, serenity and service. Housekeeping: as always we are asking you not to sit on the furniture lining the outside of the room, or the puzzle table and no food on the pool table. The only rooms available to use are this room, the restrooms, the quiet room behind me and the kitchen for clean up purposes only. The designated smoking area is on the sidewalk. A butt can has been provided, please use it. That's about it for this month.

Thank you for letting me be of service.
Terry T.

Wishing you all the best in 2012,

Public Relations Chair:

Greetings CWANA,

Grateful to see everyone's commitment to recovery, by showing up on New Years Day.

This morning we discussed a variety of topics, PR is alive and well. One topic we spent time on is the treasury report being on the website. It was placed on there this month, but there was some discomfort over if this is the best practice. We decided the treasurer report would benefit the fellowship by being on the website, though aren't sure if it should be password protected. We are seeking some direction from ASC on this point – I ask that it be brought up in new business, or wherever is appropriate.

We also continue to pay close attention to making the most use of our meeting schedules. A few of the topics we're looking at are:

- Are we using our schedules effectively – for GSR's as well as the PR Divisions?
- How often should we print our schedule?
- How often should the schedule be changed & how should that be represented?

As of right now, we're going to observe over the next few months – taking another look in March to see how those various topics are going.

Would love to see anyone else interested at our monthly 9am meeting or at the meeting in your division.

Hugs & Love,

Bo C.
